

Register Committee

Members

Judith Carr, Chair of the Register Committee and SA Heritage Council

Judith is an architect and Executive Director within the Department of Planning, Transport and Infrastructure. Judith has extensive experience in public administration, building construction project management, architecture and building asset and property management.

Ms Carolyn Wigg, Deputy Chair of the Register Committee and member of the South Australian Heritage Council

Carolyn is an Architect with extensive experience in architecture, heritage conservation and urban and regional development. She is a member of the Development Assessment Commission and the Local Heritage Advisory Committee. Carolyn is a Councillor for the Town of Walkerville and on the State Executive Committee of the Local Government Association, a past President of the SA Chapter of the Australian Institute of Architects and was formerly a part time lecturer in the School of Architecture, Landscape Architecture and Urban Design, University of Adelaide. In 2010, Carolyn was awarded a UniSA Fellowship to research 'Sustainability and Adaptive Reuse of Heritage Buildings'.

Dr Peter Bell

Peter is a professional historian, with experience as an Art teacher and University lecturer in history, archaeology, architecture and environmental studies. He worked for the State Heritage Branch for 11 years and during this time he put into effect a comprehensive program of heritage surveys to assess the entire cultural heritage resource of South Australia, the first such program in Australia. He also assisted in drafting new State heritage legislation, the Heritage Act 1993, and was seconded to advise the Queensland and Tasmanian governments on aspects of heritage administration. Peter has been an independent heritage consultant since 1994.

Mr Michael Queale

Michael is a registered architect practising in South Australia, with over twenty years of expertise in architectural conservation, particularly in heritage assessment, the conservation of historic buildings and the design of contemporary architecture in historic contexts. Michael is currently Vice-President of the Australia ICOMOS Executive Committee, the Australian chapter of the International Council on Monuments and Sites, the key professional body for cultural heritage practitioners based in Paris. Michael is also a State and Local Heritage Adviser to councils in South Australia and Victoria.

Dr Susan Marsden

Susan is a highly-experienced professional historian and heritage consultant on national, state and local projects and commissioned histories. She has also been an active member of heritage committees in South Australia and the Australian Capital Territory. Susan's skills include research and writing of a wide range of Australian history, oral history interviews, exhibitions, collections assessment, project management, heritage studies and teaching. Recent work includes the website SA 175/Celebrating SA; and the book, Business, charity and sentiment Part two: the South Australian Housing Trust, 1987-2011, Wakefield Press, Adelaide, 2011.

Mr Andrew Klenke

Andrew is an architect in private practice with over twenty years experience and with a particular emphasis on heritage listed places. Whilst having an exceptional knowledge of heritage places in South Australia and a detailed understanding and ability in all matters relating to conservation of buildings, his philosophy encourages contemporary design solutions when adapting and reusing historic buildings.

Dr Rowena Butland

Rowena is a cultural geographer, with a background in archaeology. Her research focuses on the social impacts of cultural heritage management, with a strong interest in understanding and facilitating the multiple interpretations of heritage objects and areas. Having been involved in cultural heritage management in Southeast Asia and the Caribbean, Rowena is currently a Lecturer in Urban Planning at the University of South Australia.

Ms Ali Ben Kahn

Ali has qualifications in Environmental Science and has studied archaeology and palaeontology. She has experience in environmental management and planning and has worked on National Trust projects. Ali has been a member of several government boards and committees dealing with biodiversity conservation and the environmental impacts of planning and development.

Ms Sara Beazley

Sara has an environmental planning and legal background. She has previously worked for the Crown Solicitors Office, with a particular focus on environmental law. Sara has experience in providing advice in relation to environment, land, property, mining and natural resource management laws.